e-TRANSCRIPTS

E-transcripts are a great new way to verify GED status: securely, immediately and easily.

E-transcripts offer GED examinees complete control over their own records because they have direct access to their GED transcripts. Examinees can access their records at any time from wherever they have Internet access. It takes just a few minutes to download and print a transcript; they can then send the transcript to schools, employers, the military, and others as they choose. E-transcripts are free of charge to examinees enabling them to print as many as needed.

In a few easy steps, the receiver verifies the authenticity of the transcript online, using a verification code printed on the e-transcript. If the transcript matches the on-screen information verification is complete!
